Practice Overview

Tim has a broad commercial chancery practice in line with Chambers' main practice areas. It encompasses property (including landlord and tenant), commercial litigation, pensions, insolvency, professional negligence and trusts.

Tim's recent work includes:

- Acting as junior counsel (to Andrew Mold) in relation to a claim for rectification of a pension scheme.
- Advising (with Lexa Hilliard QC) the directors of a company in administration.
- Resisting an application to set aside default judgment relating to a personal guarantee.
- Acting and advising as junior counsel in a claim for breach of directors' duties arising out of the operation of a pension scheme.
- Assisting Tim Penny QC in an application for a freezing injunction and proprietary injunction.
- Regularly appearing in possession hearings and insolvency-related hearings.

Professional Liability

Tim has experience of a range of professional liability disputes arising out of property, pensions and commercial work. He has assisted with claims both for and against professionals including solicitors and actuaries.
